Volume 26, Issue 11
November 2010

There is a danger for those of us who have been Christians for awhile. In fact, the longer we are Christians, the greater is this danger. It is a subtle danger, yet it is a very real danger and it happens when we read or hear a story from the Bible. The danger is that the story is so familiar that it may be hard for us to see beyond “what we’ve always thought this story meant.”

When we hear a familiar story, something clicks in our brain and says, “I’ve heard that before,” and we think, “I don’t need to pay attention,” or “I don’t need to hear that again.” And so we don’t give the story our full attention.

Why is this a problem? It is a problem because we are then limiting God. We are closing ourselves from receiving what God wants to give us at this moment in our lives.

Take for instance the story of John the Baptist (see Matthew 11:2-6) John was in prison and had been hearing stories of what Jesus was doing. John had a certain assumption about what the Messiah would do. He believed Jesus was the Messiah, but what he heard Jesus was doing was doing was different that what he expected. So he sent word to Jesus and asked, “Are you the one who is to come, or are we to wait for another?”

I think this was the case of John being so familiar with Jesus that he had become, in a sense, close- minded. After all, John and Jesus were cousins; they had known each other since birth. John had baptized Jesus. And now this very familiarity with Jesus was getting in the way of John seeing and understanding what Jesus was actually doing. He needed to look at Jesus with fresh eyes and hear Jesus with open ears.

And that is what we need to do as well. Lay aside your assumptions about what the story means. Try listening to Jesus as if you are hearing him for the first time. Try reading the Gospels (Matthew, Mark, Luke and John) as if you are reading them for the first time. The idea is to approach the stories of Jesus with fresh eyes and open ears.

It can also be helpful to put yourself into the story. Take your time. Imagine the scene. Slowly, carefully, and thoughtfully, wonder what it would be like if you were there. If I were in the crowd at that scene, what would Jesus say to me? If I were the person lying on the stretcher, what might happen to me? If I were one of the critics, objecting to Jesus, how would he react? If I were one of the soldiers nailing Jesus to the cross, how would he look at me? What if I were the mother of Jesus or one of his disciples?

Other people can help you gain new insight into what the Biblical story is saying to us today. That is why group Bible study is so important for adults. We need others to help us see with fresh eyes and listen with open ears.

Dare to come close to Jesus, closer than you’ve ever come before. John the Baptist discovered that Jesus wasn’t what he expected. He discovered that Jesus was much, much more than he expected. And so will you. Waiting for you is a great Jesus, an awesome Jesus - and always, a Jesus who is much, much more than you expected

THRIVENT NEWS

ATTENTION THRIVENT MEMBERS:

Rosie Keeney is going to be on the ballot for Chapter Board Member representing Kent Memorial Lutheran Church. The election will be November 7 between the services in the Fellowship Hall. It is a written ballot and you must be a Benefit or Associate Member of Thrivent to vote. Those eligible will be voting for all the members of the Camden-Miller County Chapter Board.

Barb Yount has been the Congregational Advocate for Kent since May. There can be up to 4 Congregational Advocates in a congregation. At the Thrivers meeting on October 12, Joyce Wanamaker, Floralie Harris and Joyce McHenry were nominated and approved to be Congregational Advocates from Kent. Confirmation on them will be voted at the November 27 Chapter Board meeting. After the Chapter Board approves Congregational Advocates, and the minutes of the meeting are entered, the Congregational Advocates can call or go online to Thrivent in Appleton to get their names and addresses, etc., registered.

As a special social event, Thrivent Chapter Board voted to support a November 6th Turkey Dinner between 11:00 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. at Bethany Lutheran Church in Eldon. There are 20 tickets available to use to go to that dinner. Thrivent Benefit and Associate members are invited to enjoy the dinner and the fellowship of the Thrivent members in the church there and Thrivent members from the other churches represented in our Camden-Miller County Chapter. You will have to sign the back of your special green ticket and the Chapter Board will pay for your dinner. Barb Yount has the tickets.

WELCA has requested Thrivent additional funds for the Christmas Cookie Sale on Saturday, December 4th. There will be a sign-up sheet on the serving counter for people who bake cookies, etc., for the Cookie sale. Please sign your name and put down the hours you spend making the cookies and bringing them to the church (including travel time), as well as the time you spend working at the sale. This is important.

I have enjoyed my 4 years as Camden-Miller Board member for Kent Memorial. I wish Rosie the same satisfaction of serving and have promised to help her in every way when she is elected as Records Director for 2011.

Jan Kennedy

Festival of All Saints ~ Sunday, November 7

Each year on the first Sunday of November, we observe the Festival of All Saints. On this Sunday we remember and give thanks to God for the faith and witness of those who have gone before us. We remember loved ones who have personally touched our lives and are now enjoying eternal rest with their Savior. We also give thanks for saints whom we have not had the privilege of knowing, but whose witness and service has made the church stronger.

At each service of worship we will remember members of Kent Memorial who died during the past 12 months. These saints include: Norma Estes, Georgia McFarland and Darlene Mueller.

If you have loved ones or friends who have passed away during the last year that you would like to have included in the service, please call the church office with the name and the date of death.

(See page 16 for more on our All Saints observation this year.)

REMEMBERING GENE & CAROL GERSCHEFSKE

Gene and Carol Gerschefske had Twin Oaks Men's Wear in the Laurie Terrace Mall. I worked in the mall at the Music Box as a DECA student in high school. I saw them at church but first got to know them better at the mall.

When Pastor Dunning was here we used to have Monday night Bible Study at church and from that we started a Monday night Bible Study that began in Gene and Carol's home. There was a group of about 10 of us and we would study and talk about the Bible, pray and sing. And of course, Carol always had a nice snack afterwards. Gene and a couple others in the group spoke in tongues and sometimes they would speak on Monday nights. It was fascinating to me to hear and see it! I read in the Bible about speaking in tongues and here was proof that it is true! Gene's friend, from Kansas City came a few times and one evening Hal interpreted the tongues. How exciting!

Gene sang in the choir and would sing solos. I remember when he sang "How Great Thou Art". The love that he had for the Lord was just pouring out from him. I can see Gene in my mind's eye every time I hear that hymn.

In Sunday school there were many times during our study about God that Gene brought up predestination. Did God already have our lives planned out or do we make our own free will choices?

Later in the years Gene and Carol added a line of women's clothing to the store. Carol organized yearly fashion shows. She organized a couple over the years at the May Day Luncheon. She was the quiet, steady one. She liked to read Psalms for peace and comfort. The saying goes "behind every man there's a woman pushing." Carol was behind Gene, supporting him.

Their daughter, Kathy, babysat the kids for a while so I got to know Kathy outside of church also. Every so often she would share with me when something was going on between her and her Dad. He was a hard nosed German and sometimes didn't cut Kathy much slack. But Kathy accepted that was the way her Dad was; he was looking out for her best interest and she loved him so!

As a young wife and mother, it was wonderful to have Gene and Carol as friends and as a role model. I can remember something that Carol said one Monday night. I don't remember her words exactly but I do remember that it hit me over the head like a 2x4 – I thought "Wow, Carol has such love and devotion for her husband. I want that with John". They were strong in their faith and lived it in their everyday lives.

There were many times this past year that John and I both said we wished Gene and Carol was still here. They loved God, their family and their church. Through their generosity, we will have a lasting reminder of them in the beautiful stained glass windows and the Columbarium that is in the Mike Garagnani Memorial Garden.

Jennifer Bolton

*But those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles.
They will run and not grow weary. They will walk and not be faint. --Isaiah 40:31*

Pastor's report: Pastor enjoyed some vacation time in North Carolina. Pastor Nick Stutesman has asked to borrow the white chairs from our fellowship hall for the fund raising dinner to be held at the Lake West Christian Academy on Thursday, October 28. After discussion, and based on the understanding that 30 of the chairs would be returned Friday morning for the blood drive in the afternoon, and the balance of the chairs would need to be returned by Saturday afternoon, Council gave the ok. Pastor received a call from the person in charge of the Christmas Light display in the Laurie fairgrounds. We pay $50 per year for our display, which is a lighted star. Pastor mentioned that our star is quite a way off the road, and rather difficult to see, and is also in need of some refurbishment. He will check with Madeline (the person in charge of the lighted displays) and see who is responsible for the maintenance of the star, and if we could get better visibility. A big "Thank You" to the musicians for "An Afternoon With the Classics" – Tracy Garrett, Margo Strothmann, Vanessa Hebrank and Michael Lindeman. $1185 was raised, which will be split between CADV and the Kent music programs. There will also be a CD for sale, which should bring in additional proceeds. Discussion followed regarding All Saints' Day (November 7), and the possibility of members bringing in photos of special loved ones who have passed away, whether recently or some time ago. The photos would be on display that day. Pastor David Carlson officiated at Georgia McFarland's memorial service, due to Pastor's absence.
